Re: Request for Surrogate Data

Dear Mr. Newman:

We understand that PNR has agreed to provide the road surrogate data developed by PNR required to validate the FCC's cost proxy model for universal service. We understand that the cost of the data is $25 each for two CDs, for a total $50.00. We also understand, as described further below, that there are clear limits on the use of this data, and that we must execute and comply with the provisions of the Common Carrier Bureau's protective order entered in this proceeding (In the Matter of Federal-State Joint Board on Universal Service, CC Docket No. 96-45; Forward-Looking Mechanism for High Cost Support for Non-Rural LECs, CC Docket No. 97-160) rel. July 27, 1998) (the "Protective Order").

Pursuant to paragraph 3.a(2) of the Protective Order, and on behalf of Cross Telephone Company, I have requested the expert advice of Mr. John Harris for the purpose of formulating filings in this proceeding. This undertaking requires access to the data your company will provide. Mr. Harris, an employee of Harris, Skrivan & Associates, LLC, provides cost study consulting services to Cross Telephone Company; his declaration is enclosed. My declaration is also enclosed. Any other individuals who subsequently require access to these data will also sign declarations, which will be filed as required, and such filing will constitute notice that I have requested advice from those individuals.

Please be advised that the named representatives of Cross Telephone Company will fully protect the data that PNR designates as confidential pursuant to the requirements of the Protective Order. That data will be used to attempt to run and validate the FCC's cost proxy model. Cross Telephone does not consider the output it derives from running that model to be proprietary. That output will not include any of the data received from PNR, nor will it allow a third party to derive that data. Accordingly, Cross Telephone reserves the right to use the output it derives from the model in pleadings and other communications filed publicly with the FCC and other regulatory agencies, and
